

INVITATION-ONLY. DO NO CIRCULATE.

The Center for Deliberative Democracy at Stanford University and The Public Opinion Programme at the University of Hong Kong
史丹福大學慎思民主研究中心 – 香港大學民意研究計劃

A Workshop on Deliberative Democracy, Public Consultation, and the Media

PART II

『慎思民主，民意調查與傳播媒介』工作坊
第二部份

Friday, December 2 to Monday, December 5, 2011

二〇一一年十二月二日（星期五）到十二月五日（星期一）

Location: Macao
HOTEL TBD

The Center for Deliberative Democracy at Stanford University and the Public Opinion Programme at the University of Hong Kong invite you to take part in part two of the Workshop on Deliberative Democracy, Public Consultation and the Media. This workshop will be one of a kind as part of the workshop will include an actual Deliberative Poll with a scientific, representative, and random sample of Macao citizens. On December 4, 2011, you will receive a special observer pass to witness the first Deliberative Poll in Macao, where citizens of Macao will discuss the press and audio-visual broadcasting laws. This Deliberative Poll is supported by the Macao SAR Government and by e-Research Solutions (Macao), in partnership with Hong Kong Baptist University, Lisbon University Institute, and the Center for Deliberative Democracy at Stanford University.

The last time we met we discussed how the public's voice is represented around the world and in particular, in the greater China region. We closely examined Deliberative Polling as a method of public consultation and dialogued about how deliberative methods, like Deliberative Polling, could be used to overcome the great challenges that our current society faces. This time, instead of just lectures and discussions, you have the opportunity to see for yourself how citizens engage in deliberation and how Deliberative Polling actually works.

This four-day workshop on deliberative democracy, public consultation, and the media will begin on Friday, December 2 with a working dinner beginning at 7pm. On Saturday, December 3, the morning will be dedicated to the method of Deliberative Polling, how results of Deliberative Polling are gathered and analyzed and in the afternoon, you will join the training of the actual moderators of the Macao DP. Sunday, December 4 will be the one-day deliberation for the Macao citizens and this one-day event will also include a parallel Deliberative Poll for media professionals. This workshop continues through to Monday morning (December 5) as the organizers of the Deliberative Poll will join the workshop, along with distinguished guests from around the world who have conducted Deliberative Polls. This Monday morning panel will discuss not only what happened in Macao, but will compare the Macao experience to experiences from Japan, Brazil, US, and other countries.

INVITATION-ONLY. DO NO CIRCULATE.

Workshop Sponsors/Speakers:

Dr. Robert CHUNG of the University of Hong Kong, Public Opinion Programme
Dr. James FISHKIN of Stanford University, Center for Deliberative Democracy
Dr. Alice SIU of Stanford University, Center for Deliberative Democracy

Invited Speakers:

Mr. Daniel WERNER, former President of MacNeil/Lehrer Productions (Public Broadcasting Service – PBS); Executive Producer of MacNeil/Lehrer Productions; Executive Producer of By the People
Mr. Erik CAMARANO, former Secretary General of the State of Rio Grande du Sol (RGS), Brazil (the capital of RGS is Porto Alegre and home to Participatory Budgeting)
Dr. Angus CHEONG, Founder of ERS e-Research & Solutions (Macau), former Project Director of the Macao Internet Project (MIP) and Macao Public Opinion Project (MOP) at the University of Macau
Dr. Baogang HE, Chair in International Studies at The School of Politics and International Studies, Deakin University, Australia.
Guest(s) from Japan
Guest from Poland

This is an invitation-only workshop. The Workshop Sponsors request all invited persons to submit their RSVP to Dr. Alice SIU at asiu@stanford.edu and Ms. Winnie LEE at winnie.lee@hkupop.hku.hk. Space is limited.

TENTATIVE SCHEDULE

Date	Tentative Schedule
Friday, December 2 7pm to 10pm Working Dinner & Welcome	Participants please arrive in the evening for check-in and registration. Dinner and Welcome from Stanford University and HKU POP will begin at 7pm.
Saturday, December 3 9am to 5:30pm Dinner starts at 7:00pm	9:00 to 9:45AM Introduction – Examining Deliberation and What the Critics Say Alice SIU Lecture 1: 9:45 to 10:30AM James Fishkin Break at 10:30AM (20 mins) Lecture 2: 10:50AM to 12:30PM Survey Design & Analyses Robert CHUNG, the University of Hong Kong Alice SIU Working LUNCH 12:30PM Guest Presentation 1 (20 mins) Guest Presentation 2 (20 mins) Moderator Training: 2:00PM to 5:30PM Alice SIU Break at 3:30PM (20 mins) DINNER 7:00PM (with Video Presentation – 40 mins)
Sunday, December 4 8:30am to 7pm	Macao Deliberative Poll (Day of Schedule TBA)

INVITATION-ONLY. DO NO CIRCULATE.

Monday, December 5 9am to NOON	9:00AM to 10:30AM Panel 1: The Macao Deliberative Poll Workshop Sponsors, Workshop Speakers, Macao DP Partners and Invited Guests Break 10:50AM to 12:00PM Open Discussion Moderated by Alice SIU LUNCH 12:00PM END
-----------------------------------	---

Questions: Please call Winnie LEE (the University of Hong Kong, Public Opinion Programme) at +852 39212721/winnie.lee@hkupop.hku.hk or Alice SIU (Stanford's Center for Deliberative Democracy) at +852 65728271/asiu@stanford.edu